Preserve Freshness and Keep Produce Visible

Certain produce items need to be protected against moisture to prolong freshness and avoid spoilage. The ModoShelf™ Mini-Pod Bin creates a safer environment for bulk produce items like mushrooms and peppers in a refrigerated cooler by encapsulating the product in a beautiful display. This helps retailers organize these categories with high visibility for customers.

Display and keep fresh up to four different varieties of produce across the 48" fixture. Each Pod Bin features a hinged lid for easy restocking. The food-grade, clear plastic is easy to clean and allows customers to view the fresh product on display, while also making product selection without having to open the container.
